STEVEN QUARTLY

Steven Quartly from his studio in Southern California creates oils on canvas, specializing in Contemporary Impressionism. Quartly's dedication to painting the world he sees, has contributed to his vibrant works. A plain white canvas becomes a beautiful European city scene, a Mediterranean seascape or a warm California landscape.

As a working and living artist in the 21st Century, Steven Quartly paints from the heart, his soul. Engaging viewers and collectors all over the world with his masterful use of pallet knife and brush, each stroke creates a symphony of color and dramatic perspective. Arthur Barron, President of Paramount Pictures said this:

"Steven is a young man version of Monet, he paints like an old master with a new vibrancy."

Quartly's work is now showing at some of the most prominent galleries across the United States. His paintings have been licensed and collected by companies worldwide.

He lives and works in Southern California and is married with 4 children. He can be seen cruising in his vintage Kombi VW bus or at an early surf before heading to the studio.
